This short newsletter is being sent to inform you about a few special issues...

Email and Website Problems...

Due to issues at our web hosting company, our email has been out since Saturday afternoon. Unfortunately, we lost any emails that were sent to us between then and now. If you have recently sent us an email and did not get a response, please try again or call us at the office phone number.

Baby Gracie...

As many of you know, we are expecting our first child. Elizabeth Grace is due to join One Call's staff any minute now. Everyone has been great in working with us as we go through the endless and frequent visits to the doctor's office. Scheduling will probably remain a little shaky for the next couple of weeks as we adjust to life with our new daughter. For those of you that wanted pictures, they will be sent out via this list after she is born. If you want to keep up with her after that, she has her own website now at www.GracieGeek.com.

New Newsletter List...

Due to the issues at the hosting company, we have transferred the newsletter list to a new system. As this will be the first letter through the new list, I expect that it may not go as smoothly as I should hope. If you happen to receive more than one copy, please disregard the duplicates with my apologies.

Final Bit...

A printer consists of three main parts: the case, the jammed paper tray and the blinking red light.
